Economy, Industry, and Energy Production

Use of Environmental, Social, and Governance (2022) The Nebraska Republican Party believes Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) is not based on sound science, and we reject its use in any form to control the individual, the already highly regulated production agriculture industry, the business community, both small and large, and their ability to finance operations or produce the food and products our state, the nation, and the world needs. We urge our state legislature and our U.S. Congress to pass legislation barring institutions from using ESG as a tool to pick winners and losers, without regard to sound science. Adopted July 9, 2022.

Protecting Against Political Punishment for January 6 Defendants (2023) The Nebraska Republican Party State Central Committee Members: Hold the rule of law in America requires January 6 defendants deserve protection against political persecution and cannot be detained and forgotten, and demands the exact status of all cases should be made public now because every American is owed that clarity; Demand that reporters, family, friends, and concerned citizens should be able to meet with these indefinitely detained individuals, and not to do so raises serious suspicions suggesting those in charge can do as they wish and are unaccountable, which is not good for any American; Demand that all rights afforded to Americans in the Bill of Rights, especially the 5th and 6th Amendments, shall be granted including that all detained individuals should have the assistance of counsel for their legal defense; Demand members of Congress including the Nebraska delegation, congressional investigators, relevant State officials, and television cameras should be permitted, with the consent of the detained, to see these individuals and the living conditions; and, Demand that justice in the United States should return to being swift and fair since a legitimate question now arises whether a Democrat-controlled federal and DC government, where anti-Republican feeling runs strong, could intentionally be disregarding the constitutional rights of these Americans, letting them languish in confinement. Adopted March 18, 2023.
